About Owner Mark Mitchell

Daxton Hotel's vision stems from owner and local entrepreneur Mark Mitchell, a lifelong metro Detroit area resident, who has pledged to create a hotel product in his local community that will set a new cultural standard for hospitality. Mitchell wanted to integrate his family story into the building, with the property being named after his son Daxton, and other subtle nods to family are throughout the property, as Mitchell hopes other families will enjoy this community jewel, he has worked so hard to create.
